Home Learning

Learning Together at Home

You are your child's first and most important teacher! You don't need worksheets or flashcards to help them learn; the best preparation for Nursery happens through simple, everyday moments.

We highly encourage you to focus on:

- Reading: Share stories every day. Talk about the pictures, make funny voices, and let them turn the pages.
- Playing: Give them plenty of time for messy play, building, drawing, and using their imagination. Playing together builds their language and problem-solving skills.
- Singing & Nursery Rhymes: Sing songs together in the car, at bath time, or while making dinner. Nursery rhymes are crucial for early language development because the rhythms and rhymes train little ears to hear the smaller sounds in words.

"I Can!" Milestones

Starting Nursery is a big step, and helping your child develop a few independent self-care skills before September will give them a massive boost of confidence. Here are the key skills we encourage you to practice together at home over the summer:
